Satisfactory Completion

Learners must listen to each self-directed audio recording while following along with the visual slides and complete an evaluation form to receive a certificate of completion. Your chosen sessions must be viewed in their entirety. Partial credit of individual sessions is not available. For Enduring APA and New York Boards of the Professions credits, you are also required to pass a posttest with a score of at least 80%. If you are seeking continuing education credit for a specialty not listed below, it is your responsibility to contact your licensing/certification board to determine course eligibility for your licensing/certification requirement.

Objectives - After Attending This Program You Should Be Able To

1. Describe how to help clients develop self-compassion, as a response to intense emotional pain.
2. Discuss how to conceptualize complicated grief in terms of cognitive fusion, experiential avoidance and remoteness from values.
3. Describe how to accept and adapt to any type of loss - including loss of physical health, loss of relationships, loss of work, miscarriage and bereavement.
4. Demonstrate how to use values to find meaning and purpose in the face of great loss.
5. Demonstrate how to use mindfulness-based cognitive strategies and values-guided behavioral activation strategies to help clients actively build new lives, grow and flourish.
6. Demonstrate how to engage clients in therapy, and overcome obstacles to homework.
7. Describe how to resolve complicated grief through overcoming the psychological barriers to normative grieving.
